

As you have heard many times in the past week, your health and safety are of great concern to us. Because of this, we are moving academic advising to phone and WebEx appointments for the remainder of the semester. Our academic advisors normally see a multitude of people every day, in close proximity, and we do not want to risk your health. We understand that you have many questions and are unsure of what comes next. Unfortunately, right now we are still in an ever-changing situation as we constantly re-evaluate the status of the coronavirus, the community, and the CDC recommendations. Here is what we do know. We do know that we will continue to support you in your educational journey towards your degree. We do know that we will work to find answers as quickly as we can, so we can provide you with accurate and timely information. We do know that we will continue to reach out to you and be a support for you. Please feel free to schedule an appointment with your academic advisors via TimeTap! They will also be contacting you. We will get through this together and we look forward to when we can welcome you back into our offices and the classrooms on campus!

Dr. Rachel Kirk

Anchor Program Manager